

Bee Swarm

Bees are amazing pollinators and beneficial for our food source. The USDA considers honey bees livestock. However, they can be disruptive if not dangerous around an uninvited home. They should be safely removed by experts and relocated whenever possible. To get help with identification and swarm control, this resource may be able to help.

<http://www.pikespeakbeekeepers.org/>

PLEASE NOTE:

Teller County Public Health and Environment does not get involved with Removal of Bees.

The information above is a resource only.